Bonus Homework
for Creative Counterpart- Chapters 4-6
Each homework item worth 3 pts.

1. Write down a list of all the things you do that you feel are important to your husband and household. Take the list to your man and ask him to circle the ones that are most important to him and put a number of importance by each circled item. Then put those circled items on your list of high priority and importance. Strive to do them exceptionally well!

Here are some ideas to get you started:

- *House clean (what areas are more important to him?)
- *Laundry, done in a certain way?
- *Certain foods made or purchased?
- *What is important to him that the children are learning and spending their time doing?
- *Make up or no make up? Hair up or down?
- *Lunches personally made for work?

2. Do you really know your husband? Have your husband fill out the answers to the questions below. Before you see his answers you write what you think the answer is. Compare notes. This could be a night of some great conversation! ;)

- What is the happiest thing that has ever happened to your husband?
- What has been the hardest experience of his life?
- What are his secret ambitions, his goals for life?
- What are his deep fears?
- What about you does he appreciate the most?
- What traits of you would he like to see changed?
- What man of men does he most admire? Why?
